Club Car's new XRT900 Series Rate and Comment

Club Car recently introduced a new series of XRT consumer UTVs to the fast-growing utility vehicle market. Built on a steel frame, with lots of bells and whistles, the new XRT900 Series will offer an attractive UTV option at an economical price.

"Utility vehicles are one of the fastest growing markets in the powersports and ag segments," said Matt Glendon, Consumer Category Manager for Club Car. "However, the cost of a quality utility vehicle is still out of the price range for many consumers. While they want a comfortable, capable vehicle, the price tag prohibits them from making the leap from an ATV to a UTV. We plan to change that with the 900 series."

The full-featured, mid-size XRT900 Series offers three new professional-grade vehicles with great technology, features and performance, such as shift-on-the-fly four-wheel drive and four-wheel disc brakes. The XRT900 Series also features a commercial grade

Vanguard 480cc V-twin engine drive and independent rear suspension for a smooth ride and off-road capability.

The three new models also include:

XRT950 4x2: with rear-wheel drive. MSRP: $6,899.

XRT950 4x4: independent rear suspension; four-wheel hydraulic disc brakes; and 25-inch tires. MSRP: $7,599.

XRT950 EX: with alloy wheels; windshield; canopy, rear enclosure, brush guard; and fog lights. MSRP: $8,899.

Among other features, this class of Club Car vehicles offers Bestop enclosures, allowing users to drive through mud, rain and snow without feeling the elements.
